What to do if you have a complaint

Most complaints can be solved informally at the school site, if reported early.

Informal Complaint

We encourage you to talk to the school employee directly involved in the situation that is causing your complaint.

Here is an example:

1. If your complaint is about something that happened in a classroom or the school, talk to the teacher. If the teacher does not resolve your complaint, talk to the school principal.
2. If your complaint is about a principal or a district problem, call the District Office at: 530-757-5300. Talk to the office in charge of what you are complaining about:

You must use a different complaint form, called the Uniform Complaint Procedure form if your complaint is about unlawful discrimination, harassment, intimidation, or bullying (based on race, ethnicity, color, ancestry, nationality, national origin, ethnic group identification, religion, physical or mental disability, sex, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity or gender expression) or failure to comply with state or federal laws governing District programs, services, funding sources, or involving the implementation of the LCAP. You can get that form at any school site office, district office customer service desk, or from www.djusd.net.

Formal Written Complaint

1. Fill out the Complaint Form and give it to your school principal (for a school site problem), or a district administrator (for a complaint about a principal or a district problem).
2. Within 5 business days, the principal or district administrator will contact you to let you know we have received your complaint, and what the next steps will be. If your complaint is about an employee, we are required to tell that employee about the complaint within 3 business days.
3. The District wants to resolve complaints through restorative measures and mediation whenever possible. If you agree to mediation, the school principal/district administrator will work with you to expedite the process.
4. If you decline mediation or mediation is unsuccessful, the principal, district administrator, or designee will investigate your complaint. (This is called Findings of Facts.)
5. Within 30 business days, you will get a letter called an Administrative Response/Actions. This explains what we learned about the problem and how we will respond. (We cannot share detailed information that violates student or personnel privacy rights.)

How to Ask for an Appeal

If you disagree with the response, you may ask for an appeal within 10 business days. Include in your appeal, a copy of your original Complaint Form, the principal's or district's Response, and a summary of why you believe the Response does not resolve the complaint. Submit your appeal to the Associate Superintendent of Student Support Services. The Associate Superintendent will conduct a Findings of Fact and will send you a response within 30 business days. If you still disagree with the Response, within 30 business days you may ask to speak to the School Board. The Board may agree to let you speak and present your evidence, or they may decide not to hear your complaint and the previous response stands as final.
