

Transcript of the QHSSYC Alchemists Monthly News Blast: November

Events & Topics:

- Boston trip
 - Boston college
 - Harvard
 - Boston university
 - Northeastern university
- Veterans Day
 - Mr. Verga
- Fall festival (Bobbing for apples, apple pie eating contest)
- PTC
- PTA fundraiser
- Red Cross bake sale
- Thanks in a box
- Danny Shi — New York City Boy's Varsity Bowling Championships
- Liyu Chen — Ensemble Forte at Columbia
- Thanksgiving break

Transcript:

Matei: Hi QHSS! Welcome to the 2019 November Monthly News Blaster where we review events that happened in the past month. My name is Matei and I am a freshman here at QHSS!

Alec: And I'm Alec, currently a freshman as well. To start off, we would like to recap the Boston trip that students went on earlier this month.

Matei: The juniors visited 4 colleges: Boston college and Harvard on the first day...

Alec: ...and Boston university and northeastern university the second day.

Matei: They actually met several QHSS alumni at these schools, and these graduates took them on tours which is pretty cool.

Alec: I heard they even went shopping at Quincy market and bought out all the cookies at the gas station!

Matei: Hey, why can't freshmen do fun things like this?! Skipping two whole days of school...

Alec: Cause we're freshmen, Matei!

Matei: Aw man..

Alec: In other news, we had a few days off this month because of holidays like Columbus Day

Matei: ...or indigenous people's day..

Alec: And veteran's day.

Matei: In fact, we had the pleasure of having a real veteran come to our school — none other than Ms. Verga's dad.

Alec: He spoke to us about his time serving in the army and told us about all of the countries he's visited and the lessons he learned. Thank you, Mr. Verga.

Matei: We would also like to mention some honorable students. Danny Shi has qualified for the New York City Boy's Varsity Bowling Championships, making him the first boy's bowler in QHSS history to go this far.

Alec: In addition, our very own Li Yu Chen performed with an ensemble named Forte. It is comprised of college students from Columbia University, the Juilliard School, and Young Artists from the Juilliard Pre-College. Teachers and friends came out to watch this spectacular performance. Congratulations, Li Yu!

Matei: Another event this month was the Fall Festival, where students participated in fun games like bobbing for apples and apple pie eating contests. The freshman were superior this year, let's go!

Alec: This month we had our second parent teacher conference, which was paired with a special bake sale (ker-tess-see) of our Red Cross club.

Matei: While we're on the topic of clubs, the No Place for Hate club sold their annual Thanks in a Boxes where students could purchase boxes of candy for their friends and teachers.

Alec: Speaking of thanksgiving, we hope you all enjoyed your Thanksgiving break. I sure did, I was stuffed.

Matei: Me too. Hey Alec, what are you thankful for?

Alec: I'm thankful for the friend i met at qhss___. What about you Matei?

Matei: I'm thankful for __you, Alec__, and I'm also thankful that we can make these videos for you guys every month.

Matei: This has been the November Monthly NEws Blaster...

Alec & Matei: And we will see YOU next month!